

Thai Green Curry

Serves: 4 | Prep: 10 min | Cook: 25 min

INGREDIENTS

- 600g chicken thighs (boneless, skinless), cut into 3cm cubes
- 2 tbsp green curry paste (Mae Ploy or similar)
- 2 x 400ml cans full-fat coconut milk
- 1 tbsp oil
- 3 garlic cloves, minced
- 1 tbsp fresh ginger, grated
- 1 tbsp fish sauce (or soy sauce)
- 1 tsp sugar
- 1 zucchini, sliced
- 1 cup broccolini or snow peas
- 1 red capsicum, sliced
- Juice of 1 lime
- Large handful fresh coriander and Thai basil
- Steamed jasmine rice to serve

METHOD

Step 1

Heat oil in a large skillet or wok over medium-high heat. Add chicken and cook 4–5 minutes until browned. Remove and set aside.

Step 2

In the same pan, add curry paste, garlic and ginger. Fry for 1–2 minutes until very fragrant.

Step 3

Pour in 1 can of coconut milk, stir to deglaze the pan and bring to a simmer. Add fish sauce and sugar.

Step 4

Return chicken to the pan. Add the second can of coconut milk and all the vegetables. Simmer 10–12 minutes until chicken is cooked through and vegetables are just tender.

Step 5

Remove from heat. Squeeze over lime juice and scatter with fresh coriander and Thai basil. Serve over steamed jasmine rice.

TIPS & NOTES

- ◆ Fry the curry paste first — this blooms the spices and is the key to deep, complex flavour.
- ◆ Use full-fat coconut milk for a luscious, creamy sauce — light versions turn watery.
