Preface

This is by no means directed at anyone in particular.

- I have been guilty of some things as well, so this is more of a blanket statement / discussion / conversation, applicable to everyone living here.

Secondly, I think we can all agree that we have it REALLY good:

1. Cheap rent - way below market rate, especially when considering location
2. No rent inspections
3. Don't have to pay bond
4. Minimal utilities
 - We literally only pay the electric bill, sometimes the Gas / Water when we've used an exorbitant amount
5. Plus Pookie is super chill about most things - the fact we don't have to interact with Real Estate in general is a +100 in my book.

 Living life on 'Easy Mode' has made us a little complacent

For Example

- The fact that Pookie, or WILLIAM, OUR NEIGHBOUR... has to take our bins out 9/10 times is a little embarrassing... We're all adults here right? What the fuck are we doing?
- The backyard is giving off strong 'Crack-House Vibes' - and the only person (including myself) to have made any effort in the up-keep out the back is Pookie, someone who doesn't even live here.

Now for someone who provides us with the insanely good situation we have, I don't think it's very respectful to have such little thought or care for basic maintenance / upkeep of her house.

She really does not ask for much. Let's not take that kindness for granted

So...

New Year, New Vibes

- Coming into the new year, there's going to have to be a lot of changes.
 - There will be a more formal rental agreement drawn up at a later date
 - As to not bog everyone down with everything, all at once (especially during the holidays) - I'll update everyone as I figure out the changes with Pookie.

Things to keep in mind

I'll go over / expand on some of the things mentioned here more specifically later on.

 1) - I get paid exactly - $0.00 - for anything & everything I do here

- Sorting out - rent, bills, broken things, blocked sinks, internet issues, etc, etc.

 2) - Anything to minimise the wasting of my time - goes a long way to prolonging my sanity.

For Example:

- I don't want to have to chase people up for bills / rent -

organise yourself accordingly

- Don't get notifications when bills come in? ~ Turn notifications on
- Put a reminder or something in your Calendar for the corresponding rent cycle
- Clean food scraps out of the sink
 - You wouldn't shit in the shower and stomp it down the drain would you?
 - Then don't blast food scraps down the kitchen sink - ultimately blocking it up
 - Cleaning out the sink might be gross, but saves me trying to unblock the sink every couple of months

3) - Be considerate of THE HOUSE & to everyone living here | Share responsibilities.

Whether you like it or not - the house is shared by everyone - by that I mean, we all need to be considerate of everyone, as well as share the general responsibilities of taking care of the house.

- Don't park like an idiot - blocking people in / out, or all round making things difficult for others
- Share 'Communal Spaces' & Responsibilities for 'Shared / Communal Spaces'
 - This means (for example): We all have to pitch in to keep things like the Kitchen / Laundry / Backyard / Frontyard clean
